In this session we will explore simple and effective approaches to painting buildings, focusing on architectural features such as windows, doorways, and stonework. Rather than becoming overwhelmed by detail, we will look at ways to suggest structure and character with confidence and clarity. Following a short demonstration, you will learn techniques for simplifying complex subjects while maintaining a convincing sense of form and perspective. We will discuss which details are essential to include and which can be omitted to create a stronger composition. This class is a wonderful opportunity to develop skills for painting urban and village scenes with greater confidence and understanding.
